As research continues to uncover the complexity and dynamic nature of gut microbial populations, it is well understood that a variety of beneficial bacteria are required to support overall gut and body health. The probiotics in MicroJiva Gut have been shown to help support gut microflora, gastrointestinal health, normal inflammatory response, anti-oxidative properties and side effects associated with many common disorders (1,2,3).

Our patented formulation combines a probiotic blend with a polyphenol-rich, herbal prebiotic (Triphala), which has been shown to promote GI health through a variety of mechanisms linked to chronic disease prevention (3). The prebiotic dietary fiber, scFOS, also supports digestive function.
